

Real Appeal®: FAQs

Program Information

PROGRAM SUMMARY

Is Real Appeal a weight-loss product?

Real Appeal offers proprietary 52-week lifestyle transformation programs that focus on helping members lose weight, prevent chronic disease and live healthier lives. This is very different than what people normally think of as weight-loss products like diets, cleanses, shakes, calorie controlled packaged meals or video workouts. Studies have shown that common weight-loss products do not prevent diseases because they only focus on temporary behavior changes and water loss to produce rapid results that end in weight regain within 12 months. This yo-yo effect is the human body's physiological reaction to sudden energy deficits, which causes lowered metabolism and long-term food cravings.

Real Appeal is different because it gradually changes eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise habits by altering perceptions with new information and an enormous amount of customized coaching.

What is the science behind Real Appeal?

Real Appeal programs are rooted in clinical research and this science-based approach drives lasting lifestyle changes in small, steady and sustainable steps. The academic term for this science is Intensive Lifestyle Intervention (ILI). The essence of the science is to gradually present people with new bits of information about nutrition and exercise along with strategies about how to stay motivated to reach their personal fitness goals.

Transformation Coach virtual sessions take place online for 30 minutes typically, with longer planned sessions for Real Appeal Effect program participants. The best results require a year or more of continuous coaching. The biggest challenge is to keep people engaged long enough to establish the changes to their perceptions that result in new habit formation.

The science of intensive lifestyle intervention has been firmly established over the past 50 years with hundreds of studies that prove it is effective for about half of the individuals who receive it. Four landmark studies funded by the National Institutes of Health at a cost of nearly $1 billion form the backbone of the most modern science. These methods were developed and studied in randomized controlled tests that were replicated across several countries by dozens of academic institutions. Real Appeal's clinical advisory board includes several of the principal investigators who developed and implemented these longitudinal research programs that tracked nearly 10,000 subjects over the past 20 years. Real Appeal simply translates the science into a program that is as engaging as it is effective in accomplishing the lasting changes to habits that result in healthier lifestyles.

How will I work with my coach?

Beginning with the Success Kit and easy online access, our Transformation Coaches take members through their personal transformation journey both in live online sessions and with personal messaging through our secure site. As they guide members through various healthy lifestyle changes centered on exercise, nutrition and behavior, they also provide the support, accountability and positive motivation during the various stages of the program.

How long does the program last?

Real Appeal lifestyle transformation programs are delivered over 52 weeks or up to 1 year of support based on your needs. Once you start a program, depending on your individual goals, you can lose 10, 20, 30 pounds or more with Real Appeal as you implement the simple steps that lead to lasting weight loss. Our program starts with “Season One”, which lasts 16 weeks to get you started with a solid foundation and tools for transformation. For the next 36 weeks, your Transformation Coach will further build out the foundation with “Season Two” and “Season Three” content based on your goals and needs along the journey. Overall, Real Appeal provides a full 52 weeks of support to help make a lasting lifestyle change that fits you.

When I register with Real Appeal, which gender should I choose if I don’t identify as either male or female?

We recommend that you answer “Male” if your biological sex is male, and “Female” if your biological sex is female. We understand that questions about gender and identity can be complicated, but the goal of this question is to ensure that we provide you appropriate weight-loss guidance. Our coaching product seeks to help individuals achieve a healthy BMI by referencing, among other things, ideal caloric targets, which vary based on biological sex. The reference to gender in our product is therefore strictly objective, but also absolutely central to our ability to deliver an effective solution for our valuable users and clients. We thank you again for reaching out and hope that this explanation is responsive to your question.

INTERNET CONNECTION RECOMMENDATIONS AND TROUBLESHOOTING TIPS

Your Real Appeal sessions are all online, live-streaming, audio/video conferences. Whenever possible, we recommend that you use your own private Internet connection for the best Real Appeal experience. We've found that sometimes company firewalls, VPNs and/or computer configurations can prevent successful connections to the live online Real Appeal sessions.

It's best to use either:

- The Real Appeal app on a mobile device (iOS or Android) with a private Wi-Fi connection. Note: If you must use data instead of a Wi-Fi connection, we recommend that you have an unlimited data plan.
- The Real Appeal website from your personal computer with high-speed internet

Internet Connection Troubleshooting Tips

Try these tips if you are experiencing difficulties connecting to the live online session:

- Ensure you are connected to the Internet.
- Check the Ethernet connection or the Wi-Fi signal.
- Open another browser and access a different web page to make sure that your Internet is connected.
- Ensure your bandwidth is sufficient.

- If you are on a computer, close additional browser windows/tabs that may be open.
- If you are using the app, close all background apps that may be running.
- If you are sharing a Wi-Fi connection with others, ask that they do not use other video streaming services (e.g., Netflix or Hulu) during your Real Appeal session.

If the problems persist, close the live session pop up window. Then, re-launch the session using the "Join Now" button.

We are here to help if you need additional assistance! Please contact us at 1-844-344-REAL (7325), and one of our team members can help you. We are available Monday through Friday between 4 am to 8 pm Pacific Time.
