

Expertise on Demand

How can you be sure of your diagnosis? Do you have the best treatment plan? Where can you get a reliable medical opinion? Would you like a second doctor to check your new medication and dosage, just to be sure?

Advance Medical matches patients to the leading doctors on their specific conditions, who work with you to be sure of your diagnosis and recommend the best path for treatment.

Talk to a doctor whenever you need

Our doctors have the time and freedom to help you and your family one-to-one, to help you understand what's happening, how to navigate the healthcare system, and get the best answers to your biggest questions, without delay.

With a focus on relationship-based care, our program brings medicine back to its human roots as a caring profession.

When it's your loved ones, it matters

We lessen the burden of caring for a sick family member by getting the correct diagnosis and recommending the optimal course of treatment.

Save money, save heartache

The right diagnosis always saves you money. You'll avoid unnecessary procedures, harmful medications, and missed time at work. But your health matters more than the money you'll save. This is about saving time, saving anxiety, saving heartache, and saving lives.

Ask us anything:

888.416.7514 | advance-medical.com/paypal

Advance Medical is fully sponsored by PayPal.

All of Advance Medical's services including Expert Medical Opinion are available at no cost to all global PayPal employees working 20+ hours/week and their spouse, domestic partner, and dependent children.

