

Help for Managing Your Healthcare

PayPal's partnership with Stanford Medicine provides you and your family with free, easy access to expert health information and resources.

Stanford Health Navigators are dedicated to helping you connect with the healthcare resources you need, regardless of your location or insurance plan. The Navigators' goal is to reduce the time, money and anxiety that may be associated with managing your or your family's healthcare needs.

A Stanford Health Navigator can help you:

- Connect with a qualified librarian to give you the latest medical research, so you can make informed decisions
- Find care or resources for an aging parent
- Verify a physician's credentials or affiliations
- Identify a specialist
- Access medical translation or interpreter services
- Identify clinical trials

Additional assistance is available if you seek care within Stanford Medicine.

Exclusive educational programs are also available to you through PayPal's partnership with Stanford Medicine. For example, you can view live monthly health webinars or watch them on-demand at your convenience. Please visit shc.is/paypal for more information.
